

PARENTS - Don't Miss The Largest Annual Event In Gifted Education

—the National Association for Gifted Children 57th Annual Convention and Exhibition

Among the 350+ concurrent sessions offered at convention, here are titles of sessions that Parents will likely find most useful:

- Understanding Why Over-Parenting Undermines the Gifted Child's Potential
- Parenting to Prevent and Reverse Underachievement
- Humor, Heart and Hope: Gifted Advocacy Tools That Work
- Testing 2010: A Springboard to Effective Academic Advocacy
- Parent/Teacher Expectations: Crossing the Chasm
- The Problem With Praise: Encouraging Effort and Motivation in Children
- Classical Homeschooling for Gifted Children
- 21st Century Parenting: Optimal Mind-body Practices To Fully Support The Child And The Gifts
- The Gifted Education Advisory Committee: Advocating for Gifted Learners Through Data-Informed Reporting
- Interacting with the Sensitive Gifted Child: What You Say Matters
- Professional Development Model: Parents and Professionals Working Together
- Nurturing Creativity at Home: A Guide for Parents and Grandparents
- Be Reasonable! How To Ask For The Possible From Your Child's Teacher
- Why Didn't the Gifted Valedictorian Get In?

Classroom teachers, gifted/talented coordinators, school administrators, researchers, parents, college and university faculty, and more, will converge in Atlanta, Georgia, November 11-14, for the 57th Annual NAGC Convention.
Witness the power of diverse viewpoints — from the field and from the classroom — coming together to make learning and life a challenging and rewarding experience for our nation's gifted learners.

Pre-Convention events include these one-day professional development opportunities

Gifted Education Essentials: Your Toolkit for Delivering Successful Programs and Services

Expert Perspectives

Action Labs

57th Annual Convention
Great Minds
Leading the Way

National Association for Gifted Children

November 11-14, 2010 | ATLANTA

NATIONAL ASSOCIATION FOR Gifted Children

www.nagc.org